Officer Status Updates: Assigning will always have some challenges and each district can be unique to the needs. At times, there are not enough judges to go around and it can be difficult to spread things around fairly in other areas. Please know that the assignors are working hard to make the season go smoothly for all. Not only is availability an issue, they are also dealing with multiple meet weekend assignments, meet director requests, and working around personality conflicts in some instances. As always, we want to encourage others to become a judges. Having newly rated judges to “practice” is important as they learn and train. We must work together as a group and continue to encourage one another when times get tough!

The budget draft is in the works and we will meet to approve the budget sometime in December.

Assigning reminders:

2-judge panels for all meets

No masks are required

Use “Alternate” assignment
